The Electric Company

More Fitting Than the "Gas Company"

There were gas works in Louisville long before electricity became the greatest labor, time and money saver in existence, and therefore many people refer to the Louisville Gas & Electric Company as the "Gas Company."

Nowadays, however, the amount of work performed for citizens by the electric power and lighting system is very much larger than the services performed by the gas facilities, important though these services are.

Both electricity and gas are cheap in Louisville. About the only way by which the relative proportions of the two services can be estimated is by contrasting the total amount of gross revenue paid for each.

An estimate of this kind shows that 70 per cent. of the total gross business of the Company is done by the Electrical Department and 30 per cent. by the Gas Department. The volume of services rendered by both departments increases steadily, but the growth of the city's electrical demand is at a much more rapid rate.

The figures given below represent the total electrical output for each of the last few years:

1920	108,118,350	Kilowatt	Houss
1919	85,783,790	Kilowatt	Hours
1918	74,620,649	Kilowatt	Hours
1917	61,564,395	Kilowatt	Hours
1916	54,316,160	Kilowatt	Hours
1915	47,658,424	Kilowatt	Hours

Future growth of the electrical business, according to the calculations of our engineers, will be even greater than during the past, based on the normal average growth of the city. Electrical demands increase more rapidly than the increase in population,

Investment in an industry whose business grows rapidly and steadily from year to year is safe.
